Administrative Information

1. Institution:

   Texas A&M University, College Station

2. Program to be Offered (Include CIP code):

   Tourism Management – Certificate
   CIP: 52090300

3. Online Program Description – Describe the program and the educational objectives. Include the Type of Online Delivery: 100% Online, Fully Online (86%-99%) or Hybrid/Blended 50% - 85%)

   Tourism is one of the world’s largest and most diverse industries. This certificate focuses on the planning, management, development, and promotion of places and events as tourism attractions. Courses in tourism are designed to collectively build understanding about the linkages that exist between local places and cultures, host populations, and various public, private, and special interest groups. Students in this emphasis can pursue careers in private sector enterprises, government agencies, convention and visitor bureaus, and other tourism-related service organizations.

   Hybrid/Blended Delivery: A total of 19 credits is required for the Certificate, including five required classes and one specialized elective. Four of the required courses, as well as numerous elective options, are offered both online (asynchronous format) and in-class. One 4-credit required course is only offered in class. Thus students take between 21% and 100% of coursework in traditional classroom formats.

   This Certificate is embedded (degree-dependent) in the Bachelor of Science in Recreation, Park and Tourism Sciences, and is one of four Certificates RPTS majors may earn.
4. Administrative Unit – Identify where the program would fit within the organizational structure of the institution (e.g., The Department of Electrical Engineering within the College of Engineering).

The Department of Recreation, Park and Tourism Sciences within the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences.

5. Proposed Implementation Date – Report the first semester and year that students would enter the program.

The Certificate was initially approved for Fall 2014. This proposal seeks to increase the percentage of coursework students may take via Distance Education.

6. Contact Person – Provide contact information for the person who can answer specific questions about the program.

• What processes do you have in place that secures that a student registered for a distance education course is the same student who completes and receives credit for it? Explain.

All online courses in the RPTS department use eCampus, the TAMU LMS interface which uses CAS (Central Authentication Service) to authenticate users. Texas A&M uses a unique NetID and password to identify each user. Access to TAMU online media and resources requires users to login using CAS. CAS, NetID and passwords are managed by TAMUIT.

Step Two: For each of the following questions, include the requested information:

1. Program Administrative Oversight and Structure:
   • Identify the person and office directly responsible for the overall management of the offering.

Susan G. Scott, RPTS Associate Department Head for Undergraduate Programs

2. Faculty Resources:
   • If the online program will result in additional students, how will faculty resources be provided, that is, hiring additional faculty, reallocating faculty resources from other programs, etc.?

No additional students are anticipated.

3. Evaluation:
   • How will your institution monitor the quality of the program and student learning outcomes?

A conceptual exam will be administered as a direct measure of learning outcomes. Readiness for entry-level supervision/management positions will be assessed using self-efficacy items on the same exam.

   • How would evaluations be carried out?

The exam will be administered toward the end of a one-credit capstone (in-class) course. The exam will be composed entirely of objective items.
• Describe procedures for evaluation of the program and its effectiveness in the first five years of the program, including admission and retention rates, program outcomes assessments, placement of graduates, changes of job market need/demand, ex-student/graduate surveys, or other procedures.

The TAMU Registrar's office has recently begun to track certificates and will provide us with reports of enrollment. Academic Advisors in RPTS monitor admissions and retention.

An Advisory Committee composed of ten professionals meets at least once per year. This body provides input on changes in the job market and associated curriculum revisions.

The RPTS Department administers a survey of Former Students every five years to track placement and career progress.
