Explain how affected parties (students, faculty, staff) will be informed of the impending closure.

All majors will be notified by email of the impending change for the 2018-2019 catalog. For faculty and staff, notification will occur at departmental meetings and by email.

Explain how students will be helped to complete their programs of study with minimal disruption or additional expense.

The courses for the certificate are always offered, since they are regular major courses. The remaining students will easily be able to register for them in any given semester. The courses are part of faculty members’ regular course loads. Current students in the certificate will be able to complete the remaining requirements without disruption. Future students will not be able to since it will not be offered in their respective catalog.

Upload teach-out agreements with other institutions.

Explain how faculty and staff will be redeployed or helped to find new employment.

Not applicable as faculty and staff will remain as they are currently employed and used, with the same effort.

How many students are currently enrolled in the program? 31

Projected graduation date for the last student(s) in the program? 05/2019

Rationale for inactivation/deletion

The department now offers transcriptable tracks that match our certificates, making the certificates redundant. The faculty would prefer to use other methods besides a certificate to encourage student engagement.

1. MKTG 299 should be registered for when there is active participation in the associated student organization, Student Retailing Association. This is required, for a minimum of 2 semesters.
2. Also, an internship in the retailing industry is required. The internship must be for a minimum of 300 hours over 15 weeks or fewer. No more than 20% of work can be clerical or unrelated to the development of professional skills in marketing. The internship must offer meaningful, professional-level learning in areas of sales, advertising, retailing, sports marketing, event planning, or communication. The student must comply with all company regulations, health and safety conditions, and legal requirements.

Additional information: Required course hours are not changed. However, the certificate will now allow the choice of a zero-credit-hour internship or the internship that is taken for credit. Therefore, some students may have 15 hours. But, 12 hours is the requirement to receive the certificate.
