The University Curriculum Committee recommends approval of the following:

1. New Courses

   BUAD 125. Business Learning Community I. (3-0). Credit 3. Focuses on the base competencies that relate to effectively managing people, tasks and organizations, and change and innovation; develops skills in personal and professional competencies, analytical and critical thinking skills, written and oral communication skills, interpersonal skills and problem-solving skills; research emphasis. Prerequisite: Selection for the Mays College of Business Learning Community.

   BUAD 126. Business Learning Community II. (3-0). Credit 3. Focuses on the competencies that relate to managing people and organizations, and to managing change and innovation; field trips with other learning communities to explore intellectual and cultural themes in various interdisciplinary fields; research and communication skills practice. Prerequisite: Selection for the Mays College of Business Learning Community.

   ENGR 150. Introduction to Engineering. (1-1). Credit 1. An interdisciplinary, design-oriented introduction to engineering course; emphasis on engineering preparation through projects integrating mathematics, science and engineering. Prerequisites: MATH 150 or concurrent enrollment; freshman classification in engineering.

   PSYC 352. Organizational Psychology. (3-0). Credit 3. Literature and research in basic theories and practices of organizational psychology including employee motivation, leadership, job satisfaction, counterproductive work behaviors, organizational commitment, culture, climate, communication, and group processes within organizations. Prerequisites: PSYC 203 and 204 or junior or senior classification.

   PSYC 353. Personnel Psychology. (3-0). Credit 3. Literature and research in basic theories and practices of personnel psychology including job analysis, testing and validation, selection, performance appraisal, training, and legal issues in employment decision making. Prerequisites: PSYC 203 and 204 or junior or senior classification.